

QUESTIONS AS GIFTS – by Kurt April (September 2013)

The questions of others are gifts

You pause

You consider

You need to hold them lightly

So as not to injure their delicate embrace

You are given these

Gifts

To hold

To take, deep within your heart

Within your soul

Your attentiveness will cause them to emerge

To hatch

To birth

Perhaps as your own answers

